

Rewrite the following sentences without changing the original meaning. Use the words given when they are provided.

1. You can clean this wall with soap and water.

This wall.

2. They use computers to make pictures nowadays.

Nowadays, computers

3. They were building that bridge when we left the city three years ago.

That bridge

4. You must wash that fruit before you eat it.

That fruit

5. The policemen arrested the child for writing on the subway wall.

The child

6. I was taken to the exhibition by my friends.

My friends

7. These computers are imported from America.

8. They will sell sandwiches at lunch time.

9. We must do something about this computer.

10. They are showing the pupils a film about Picasso. (2 ways)

11. Your tickets have to be shown at the door.

12. People believe the company stole over a million pounds

It

The company

13. We expect the train strike will begin tomorrow

It

The Train Strike

14. Laura's photos are being developed.

15. They are installing our neighbours a new cooker

CONSOLIDATION ACTIVITIES ON CONDITIONAL SENTENCES

Rewrite the following sentences taking care not to change their original meaning. Use the words between brackets, when provided or begin the sentences with the words given.

1. You'll get sunburnt by sunbathing all day long. (sun)

If you _____ sunburnt.

2. You won't find any accommodation if you don't book in advance. (anywhere)

Unless you book ahead _____ to stay.

3. Why don't you come on holiday with us? You'll certainly have a good time. (together)

If we _____ yourself.

4. If you don't hide the message, someone will steal it.

Unless

5. Unless you eat more, you will be ill.

If you

6. Unless John stops smoking, he'll never be healthy.

If John

7. If you don't feed the cat, it will die.

Unless they

8. If he doesn't come to the picnic, he won't see his friend again.

Unless he